WHAT'S HOLDING YOU BACK?

I can't do training right now because I'm not comfortable going into a classroom.

Most training is being provided virtually.

My kids are in remote learning, so I can't handle doing job training during the day.

Many training programs offer evening and weekend hours.

I want to keep collecting unemployment so I can't do job training.

You can continue to collect your unemployment while training for your next job.

I'm on temporary layoff so I will probably get called back

You should still consider training to boost your skills & increase the chances you get called back.
